February 2025

Meeting Exceeds Expectations

WPRW had a great start to 2025, as our January meeting exceeded our attendance expectations. We are so grateful for everyone coming to the 518 Event Center on January 2 to hear our State Senator, Mayes Middleton, discuss the upcoming legislative session starting on January 14 and significant conservative priorities that need to be passed, including property tax relief, banning taxpayer lobbying, stopping foreign investors from buying land in Texas, putting a cap on out-of-state political donations and securing the border.

Thank you everyone for attending our January meeting! We really appreciate your support, as we continue to help elect conservatives

With President-elect Donald Trump being sworn in on January 20 and all local Republican candidates winning their races, we see a bright future for 2025 on the local, state and national levels. WPRW hopes that the 89th Legislative Session will be productive and many conservative policies will be passed to keep Texas red, safe and secure.

Next Meeting:

WPRW will have its next meeting on Thursday, February 6 at 6:30 pm. It will be at the 518 Event Studio, located at 8201 Broadway, Ste. 171, Pearland, TX 77581. Our guest speaker will be Judge Greg Hill, 239 District Court in Brazoria County.
